

Standard Webpages for AskAway Entry Points [1]

Following is the standard set of webpages for AskAway entry points. The best practice is to include AskAway on all of these pages.

This is not a ranked list; Qwidgets are beneficial and perform well on every page listed. Nor is it an exhaustive list: students benefit from an AskAway entry point in any place that they are engaging in research, and libraries are encouraged to think creatively in finding additional ways to provide access to the service.

Each of the following links to a page outlining why a given page is an important AskAway service point, how to incorporate the Qwidget or other entry points into the page, and examples.

- Library home page [2]
- Discovery layer search results [3]
- Database search results [4]
- Research Help pages [5]
- Database indexes [6]
- Research guides [7]
- Library catalogue [8]
- Library contact page [9]
- Citation guides [10]
